

Grand Junction Free Press

Who's News in the Grand Valley business community

By Tracy Dvorak

September 12, 2008

Dr. Paul Northup, a Grand Junction area endodontist, has been named by his peers as one of Colorado's best dentists. The list, which involves the polling of nearly 3,000 Colorado dentists, is compiled annually by 5280 Magazine in conjunction with the national firm, topDentists.

Criteria for winning is based on experience, professional affiliations, and manner with patients. The nominated dentists are then reviewed by the state dental board for disciplinary actions to ensure that each is in good standing.

Northup is part of Colorado West Endodontics. He and his partner, Dr. Robert Chavez, specialize and limit their practice to root canal therapy and root canal surgery. For more information, visit www.cowestendo.com/ or call 242-9088.