

Foundation for Endodontics and Dentsply Sirona Freedom Scholarship Guidelines

Application Deadline

March 15, Annually

Purpose

According to the American Dental Association, the average student loan debt for a dentist is approximately $300,000, with student debt for dental specialists, far exceeding that amount. This debt is a factor in every decision of a new dentist's life. This scholarship for a second- or third-year endodontic student/resident would alleviate this future burden by providing financial assistance toward tuition to individuals with merit.

Three $50,000 scholarships will be awarded annually during the five-year pilot phase of this new program (2024 – 2028). This scholarship will be paid directly to the resident's institution to cover the cost of post-graduate endodontic tuition, courses, equipment, books, and/or fees for training related purposes. A formal application and review process is outlined below, including eligibility and application requirements.

Eligibility

- All applicants must be a current student/resident of a CODA-accredited Advanced Education Program in Endodontics.
- Applicant must be a citizen or permanent resident of the United States or Canada.
- Eligible applicants may apply near the end of their first or second year of residency to cover eligible costs in the following academic year.
- Scholarship funds will be paid directly to the institution and will only cover training-related costs including tuition, courses, equipment, books, and/or fees, as billed by the institution.
- Residents enrolled in any program where tuition and fees do not exist or are paid in full are not eligible.
- Applicant may not be an employee of or influencer for Dentsply Sirona.
- Applicant may not be a family member of an employee or influencer for Dentsply Sirona.
- Applicant must be an AAE member in good standing.
- Applicant must have 3.1 GPA or higher in dental school and thus far in endo residency (transcripts required). If applicant's dental school and/or Advanced Education Program in Endodontics does not utilize numerical GPAs, the applicant must be in good academic standing, verified by a letter from the Dean of Academic Affairs, the equivalent, or higher (transcripts should also be included in this case).
- Only one award per applicant in their lifetime.

Application Requirements

1. ONLINE APPLICATION (LAUNCH)

2. PERSONAL STATEMENT (TWO-PAGE LIMIT)

Personal statement should outline the applicant's story and the reason(s) they are an excellent candidate for this scholarship. This may include merit, life challenges, financial burdens, career aspirations/plans, and/or other reasons.

3. TWO LETTERS OF RECOMMENDATION (LAUNCH)

One letter should highlight the academic and personal knowledge of the candidate. The other letter should demonstrate the institutional support for the candidate.

- From the Advanced Education Program in Endodontics Program Director
- From dental school or Advanced Education Program in Endodontics faculty member

4. OFFICIAL TRANSCRIPTS

All pre-doctoral and post-graduate program (dental school and residency) transcripts must be provided. If pre-doctoral education was completed outside of the USA or Canada, transcripts should be translated to English using credentialing agencies. World Education Service (WES), Education system Exchange (ESE) or other services are recommended. Transcripts are required.

5. TUITION AND FEES

Official documentation from school stating tuition and associated fees for the post-graduate program.

The Foundation encourages all applicants to be familiar with their commitments to existing student loans. If student loans are secured prior to the receipt of this scholarship and they are no longer needed once the Foundation for Endodontics and Dentsply Sirona Freedom Scholarship is received, it is the student's responsibility to notify their school's Office of Financial Aid to reduce the loan amount. The Foundation does not take responsibility for any repayment of loans due to the timeline/receipt of this scholarship.

Program Administration

Applications will be reviewed by a committee selected by the president of the Foundation for Endodontics. Committee composition will include the President or President-elect of the Foundation, two AAE members at large that would bring expertise to the student debt crisis, a new practitioner affiliated with the Foundation or AAE New Practitioner and Resident Committee and one Dentsply Sirona representative. Selected candidates will be invited to an interview with the selection committee, who will recommend finalists to the Foundation for Endodontics Board of Trustees for final approval.

Timeline

Applications will open in January 2024. The deadline for applications is March 15, 2024. The selection committee meets to select finalists following the deadline. Applicants selected to advance to the interview stage will be notified shortly thereafter; virtual interviews will be conducted in mid-July. Applicants will be notified of their status shortly thereafter. The recipient will be recognized at APICES.

Applications must be submitted online. No paper, fax, or email applications will be accepted.
