PRACTICE LIMITED TO ENDODONTICS

The Louisiana State Association of Endodontists (LSAE) was established on June 7, 1985 to provide our geographical region with representative input into the leadership of the AAE.

Twelve A.A.E. members attended the first meeting in New Orleans, Louisiana and elected as officers Ray Luebke (President), Chip Simon (Vice-President) and Van Himel (Secretary/Treasurer).

The LSAE meets twice yearly. The first meeting is held in conjunction with the graduation ceremonies for the endodontic residents at the LSU School of Dentistry. This full day continuing education seminar is conducted by the visiting endodontist who administers the oral exams to the graduating endodontic residents. The LSAE meets again during the annual meeting of the New Orleans Dental Association. At this luncheon meeting, new officers are elected.

The LSAE currently has 30 members, in addition to the endodontic residents who are represented by a student representative to the LSAE. Officers for 1993 are Fred McMullen (President), Ken Parks (Vice-President) and Jody Dickerson (Secretary/Treasurer).
